Mr. Chang-Wook Min is the Head of the ESG Center at Jipyong, leading the Center's key practice areas of human rights and environmental due diligence, ESG strategy and disclosure, compliance and business ethics, and EU/U.S. ESG and trade regulatory advisory. He has provided advisory and consulting services to major Korean corporations and corporate groups.

Mr. Min is a recognized expert in supply chain due diligence and ESG disclosure under international norms, including the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights (UNGPs), the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the EU Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence Directive (CSDDD), the IFRS Sustainability Disclosure Standards (ISSB/KSSB), and the European Sustainability Reporting Standards (ESRS). Through close engagement with global organizations such as RBA, BSR, and WBA, he has established formal partnerships between these organizations and Jipyong's ESG Center. Across industries ranging from automotive, semiconductors, steel, and shipbuilding to IT, chemicals, food, and pharmaceuticals/biotech, he has helped Korean companies develop practical solutions that maintain their competitiveness while building trust with stakeholders.

Beyond his client practice, Mr. Min has actively contributed to legislation and policy research, participating in government-commissioned studies for the Ministry of Employment and Labor, the Ministry of Unification, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and the National Assembly. He is a co-author of Labor Laws of the Republic of Korea and has authored academic articles on ordinary wages, occupational safety, public education, and North Korean legislation.

Mr. Min earned a Master's degree in Public Affairs with the Bardach Prize for Outstanding Capstone at UC Berkeley. He received his J.D. from Seoul National University in 2012 and his B.A. from Korea University in 2009, and is admitted to the Korean Bar. He also participated in the Korean Bar Association's working group on drafting Korea's human rights and environmental due diligence legislation, contributing to the development of a Korean-style mandatory due diligence framework.
